A STEP TO THE OTHER SIDE

Nowadays, many people think that travelling is very expensive and they can't afford it. Today I'll try to change this point of view.

This summer was the best summer in my life, I had an opportunity to go abroad 3 times in 2 months. It was really perfect, and I think every new place can influence on person and make him/her look at staff in a different way. I think the trip abroad can cost the same money as a trip to any city in Ukraine. And I want to show you, that it really true. OK. Let's start.

First, you must decide which country you want to visit. I don't think it would be difficult. When you decide, you must open internet and start to search how to come there. You have few variants: go by bus, but it not so comfortable and takes a lot of time or go by plane. If you book tickets in advance, for example, one year before, you can economize a lot of money. Because tickets on plane can cost like tickets for train from Kharkiv to Kiev. Or search for some sale, if LUCKY is your second name, of course.

When you have your tickets you need to find a place for sleeping. BOOKING.COM is a web-site that can help you find this place. Moreover, there is a lot of another links where you can always choose the best price for you. If you want to make it for free you can try a COUCHSURFING, it is very popular now, but better don't do it alone. Of course if you are not a cat and don't have nine lives.

Activities are always expensive abroad, because everyone wants to make money from tourists. If you know how to use the Internet, you can always find a web-sites like GROUPON with many offers for activities, food or shops. Also, to save money on food, better to go to supermarket, than eating in a restaurant.

In every country and in each city all over the world governments build a tourist center or information reception, where you can always ask some questions and even take a map for free and save 2-10 euros for something else.

What is the really cool, that you can pay for everything in different time. For example, a year before you bought tickets, then few months after you booked a hotel or hostel, and at last you book some activities and so on. You will not feel that you spend a lot of money, if you split it right.

In Conclusion I want to say that travelling is always nice. And even if you don't have a lot of money it's not a reason to say nope for yourself. Plan your trip in advance, economize your money and enjoy your trips.
